WOMEN AS POWER IN INDIAN ART

Celebrating RINI DHUMAL

Join us for an evocative panel discussion celebrating the recent exhibition 'Shakti: A Retrospective of Rini Dhumal'. In this session, prominent female artists will look at the changing face of women's representation in Art. This session will also look at Rini's work that depicts women of all ages, merging the earthly with the spiritual, extrapolating the spirit within each woman. The speakers will discuss the work of pioneering women working in the realm of modern art, their visual grammar, and their intellectual influences by taking a journey through this period of seismic shift within the Indian arts. The discussion will shed light on how these changes affected the woman, both as a subject and as a creator of visual arts.

Delve into the creative processes of prolific women artists and discuss artworks depicting admirable women—from historical figures to mythological characters—while reflecting on the role of gender in art.
