Art & the City of Bangalore (30 min)

The Malleswaram Accessibility Project that involved bringing together various local and international artists and organizations to create, perform and present art in Malleswaram by Archana Prasad, Co-Founder & Director, Jaaga.

Q/A session: 15 minutes

Guy Claverie is the Director of Communication for Public Transport in Toulouse (France). He spearheads an initiative that makes art accessible to all commuters. This project has been lauded both by the state and the public and has been awarded the "Grand Prix National du Mécénat d'Entreprises 1994".

Archana Prasad is an artist from Bangalore, India. Her work is a particular conjunction of visual art, technology and urban community art, steeped in design and research methodologies.

As Co-Founder & Director of Jaaga Archana has a unique artist-activist role. She works towards building a stronger arts community and positively impacting public perception of art, artists and art-practices in Bangalore.
